

Ah Wing

Waranga Chronicle

17 March 1870

A Magisterial Inquiry was held before J. T. Lewis, Esq., J.P., Whroo, on Saturday last, to ascertain the cause of the death of Ah Wing, who was found dead in his hut.

Dr. Heily stated that death was caused by disease of the lungs and heart, accelerated by want. A verdict was returned in accordance with the evidence.

A second report was shown in the same edition.

A Magisterial Inquiry was held on Tuesday the 10th before Mr J. T. Lewis, Esq., J.P., touching the death of a Chinaman named Ah Wing. A post mortem examination was made by Dr. Heily, and the cause of death was shown to be disease of the heart and the want of proper treatment.

Ah Wing is shown on the Whroo cemetery interment list, age given as 48.
